Captain Ane Smit Welcomes You On Board

Born on Terschelling, a small island in the North of Holland, Ane Smit grew up close to the sea and in an environment rich with maritime history. Many of his family members had been seafarers and some had even taught at the famous Willem Barentsz nautical college which is situated on the island. It was no wonder why Ane was interested in working on ships from an early age, and after studying at the nautical college he went to sea and joined Holland America Line's 'old' Noordam in 1994. He has since worked on most ships in the Holland America Line fleet, as well as on Wind Star's Wind Surf but is particularly fond of the Maasdam where he has spent most of his time. When not sailing the oceans, Captain Smit lives on the island with his wife and two sons, and enjoys spending his time fishing, combing the beach, and in his garden.
