Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
We with reverence sing to thee

We will strive to win thee fame.
We will thirst for thy affection;
Ken Hi, we will always love thy name.

There was never a dull moment for the Senior Class of 1957. Highlights of the year were senior assemblies, scholarship and aptitude tests, senior rings, and name cards. Spring brought the National Honor Society awards, Senior Class Play, election of a king and queen for the Shamrock Ball, then the Junior-Senior Prom. Now with mixed emotions we await Baccalaureate and Commencement.

Not unlike past junior classes, this year's class was an energetic group of workers. From the beginning of the year the mind of every junior was focused on the Prom. The major activities of the juniors were the candy sale, the magazine sale, and the Junior-Senior Prom. The candy sale began in September and lasted until Christmas. The candy was sold by the junior girls. This campaign provided for about half of the money necessary for the Prom. The remainder was raised by means of a magazine sale, beginning in October and lasting for four weeks. Next came the planning of the Prom and actual work which lasted about three months. Finally, two days before the Prom, the decoration of the gym was completed. Then followed the big day. These three activities kept the junior class busy all year.

The sophomores got pretty well acquainted with Ken Hi on their first day of school. After enrolling they met some of the sophomore teachers and were taken on a tour of the building. At an assembly on a later date, they became more familiar with the clubs and organizations at Ken Hi. After orientation the sophomores were individually interviewed by Miss Eiges and Mr. Keiser concerning plans for the future and courses of study. The Class of '59 found that Ken Hi isn't all work when they were entertained in assemblies by some of the members of their class. Then they began to concentrate on raising money for their Sophomore Hop by selling candy during the lunch hour. They had their tests, also. Among them were a preference test and an I. Q. test. The end of the year found most of the sophomores looking forward to next year and the Prom.

Handbook Staff

Under the able direction of Miss Sadie Owen, an appointed staff compiles the Handbook which should be very familiar to everyone. The little "Red Book" is of greatest value to the sophomores and new students, for it has floor plans, clubs and organizations, courses of study, and requirements for graduation. Seniors and juniors find it most valuable for the "English Reading List" and student activities. If you're ever in doubt about anything concerning the school, just look into the Handbook, for it has all the answers.

Bob Fronduti, Pat French, and Nancy Sypenick concentrate on putting the Handbook together.

Kentonian Staff

The Kentonian Staff contributes a great deal to Ken High's extra-curricular activities. Besides publishing ten newspapers through the year, the Staff also sponsored this year the Red Raider Contest. As a result of the contest, John Roberts's symbol of a red fox was established as Ken High's official Red Raider. Miss Russell and Mr. Shearer, advisors, deserve much credit for their efforts.

Student Council

The Student Council, formerly the Board of Activities, is an organization new to Ken Hi. The old Board of Activities was a group of nine elected students who helped to plan the activities of the school. Since they were not too representative of the student body, the group was re-organized. Now, the council has forty-one members, one being elected from each home room, and the old Board serving as the executive board. When the council meets, they discuss methods of bettering the school, selecting performers for the assemblies, and problems which arise concerning extra-curricular activities. The officers for 1956-57 are Richard Silverman, president; William Kraft, vice-president; Bernice Kozar, secretary; and Joseph Drake, treasurer. Mr. Vorlage is the very active faculty sponsor of the group.

The Board of Activities Banquet is always a great success.

Service to Ken Hi is the key word of this group of clubs

The JUNIOR RED CROSS is Ken Hi's division of the National Red Cross. President, Jane Palmer; vice-president, Linda Murar; secretary, Tom Petherick; treasurer, Ralph Yobp; and sponsors, Mrs. Fields, Mrs. Grieseimer, and Miss Hobaugh, directed the council's work. A vital part of instruction in many subjects is the work of the ASSEMBLY STAFF, under the supervision of Mr. Upton, Alan Patz, Jerry La Russa, and Bob Archibald. Assisting in gym work, the LEADERS CLUB is led by Marlene Cowen, Gwen Compton, Donna Beatty, and Miss Pascarella.

The BANK STAFF, supervised by Mr. Vorlage, is indispensable to Ken Hi, handling thousands of dollars each year. The MONITORS are the Ken Hi traffic cops with officers Tom Gorney, Jim Rogerson, and Chuck Kane, directed by Mr. Dunn.

Attendance Staff

The Attendance Staff, headed by Miss Boucher, is composed of eight girls, who give up one of their study halls every day to check attendance slips. These girls have a valuable part in keeping Ken Hi functioning smoothly.

Library Staff

The members of the Library Staff do an excellent job, under the guidance of Miss Ewing, in taking care of the 5,000 books in our library. They help locate and select reading material from the many types of books, ranging from reference and supplementary works to recreational reading.

Judy McIlwain has no trouble finding someone's schedule card.

The Junior Town Meeting

The Junior Town Meeting is an organization which aims to teach tolerance, reason, and justice through active discussion by students of divergent views. Mr. Shearer, the club's able sponsor, has successfully directed the club's activities by arranging panel discussions at PTA's, church organizations, and civic groups. The members of the club are among the most active in the school and, as usual, they were the guiding spirit in bringing our foreign student, Claude DeLuca, from France. The officers this year were—in descending order—Henry Dudek, Charlotte Oliver, Susan Newby, and Martha Hansotte.

Wonder if Claude DeLuca is locating Paris for Marnie Murdoch and Henry Dudek.

These clubs contribute to choosing a career

Several clubs at Ken High are closely associated with students' choice of a career and preparation for it.

The FUTURE NURSES group is ably guided by Mrs. Fields with Pat Marriott, Diane Caesar, Rosalie Kapustik, and Leah Wills as officers. Another equally important club is the FUTURE TEACHERS directed by Miss Eiges and Mr. Keiser. Miss Olmer sponsors the FUTURE HOMEMAKERS which is an affiliate of the national organization. Elected officers are Bernadette Koneski, Catherine Gorleski, Linda Crail, and Donna and adults who saw it. The club meets once a month to plan its many activities. The officers are Leona Bobick, president; Tom Bogany, treasurer; and Judy Crusan, secretary.

The cast of the "Poor Nut" had as much fun as the audience.

Science Club

The Science Club is an organization to aid students who are interested in the sciences. The club, under the guidance of Mr. C. H. Walter, has made tours to the Alcoa Research Laboratory and to the Buhl Planetarium. During the club meetings scientific reports are given by the members. Jim Chmiel is president; Bill Hartmann, vice-president; Helen Lesniak, secretary; and Paul Shiring, treasurer.

The Hi-Y is directed by Dick Silverman, president; George Grayson, secretary; Al Levendosky, treasurer; and Mr. Apel, sponsor. Decorating the school Christmas tree is their special project.

Led by Susan Laatu, president; Marjorie Hudson, vice-president; Karen Page, secretary; Pauline Sroka, treasurer; and Mrs. Terwilliger, sponsor; the Senior Tri-Hi-Y builds most of its projects around supporting their Belgian war orphan, Susan Swerty.

Sending two girls, Sally Miller, president, and Bernadette Konesky, to the United Nations Assembly in Harrisburg is the outstanding project of the Junior Tri-Hi-Y. Other officers are Georgia Elwood, vice-president; Meredith Keller, secretary; and Kay Mishler, treasurer.

The Sophomore Tri-Hi-Y held a very successful fair in the YMCA to raise funds for their world service gift. Those in charge are Elaine Balla, president; Marie Foryt, vice-president; Judy Miller, secretary; Barbara George, treasurer; and Miss Hood, advisor.

Mixed Choir

One of the most outstanding organizations in Ken High is the Mixed Choir. This year the Choir of 100 students is under the direction of Miss Carolyn Bruno. At Christmas time, besides giving the yearly program for the high school, they presented a program for the Senior Woman's Club. A talent show is another exciting event to raise money. Under the leadership of Alan Patz, president; Janice Fiscus, vice-president; Judy Vernam and Virginia Morgan, secretaries; and Molly Fletcher and Bill Seybold, treasurers, the senior members of the Choir are making plans to visit New York this spring.

Mixed Chorus

This chorus, also directed by Miss Bruno, was added to the musical organization this year as a training class for the advanced choir. This group is led by Bob Archibald, president; Charlotte Oliver, vice-president; Dave Gilkey and Bernadette Koneski, secretaries.

Soph Girls Chorus

The Girls Chorus has accomplished much since the beginning of the year. With Miss Bruno's training, the sophomore girls sang at the Christmas program and the Spring Festival. The officers of the group are Wynona Elder, president; Marie Foryt, vice-president; Gloria Brutsky and Pat Turack, secretaries.

Drum Majors

The Drum Majors and Color Bearers do their bit to give Ken Hi's marching Band an outstanding appearance. They also have their share in fostering school spirit and patriotism.

Majorettes

One of the most popular and active organizations of Ken Hi is the Major-ette Corps. This versatile group has displayed originality, enthusiasm, and pep in its eye-appealing and clever routines throughout the Valley. Under the direction of Mr. John Stephens, the Majorettes spend a week at Band Camp in Salisbury, Pennsylvania, where they work out the various drills and dances for the coming season. Headed by Myrna Carrop, head majorette, and her assistants Rose Marie Pecardo, Donna Kaforey, and Pat Laskey, the corps is highly applauded wherever they perform.

One of the best known and most important organizations in our school is the Band. Each year the Band spends a week at the Booster's Camp near Salisbury, Pennsylvania, practicing for the coming year's activities in which they will perform. Since the beginning of the year, they have performed at the Indiana Homecoming game, the Steelers football game, the combined marching Band Festival in Tarentum, many parades, assemblies, and of course at all the football and basketball games. The officers of the Band make up what is known as the "Board of the Band." Included in it are president and student conductor, Steve Fryncko; vice-president and assistant student conductor, Oscar Traini; business manager, Jim Chmiel; equipment manager, Michel Berta; publicity manager, Gene Arabia; treasurer and librarian, Brenda Prouser; secretary, Jean Couchman.

Dance Band

The Ken Hi Dance Band, which is composed of fifteen of the high school musicians, is a very active organization. The Band plays for assemblies, dances, the talent show, pep rallies, and basketball games. It is under the direction of Mr. Stephens, and all the members except Larry Solomon, who plays piano, belong to the Ken Hi concert and marching Bands. Along with the many practices held at Band Camp, the Dance Band practices once a week so they may be ready for engagements. The officers are as follows: president, Alan Patz; vice-president, Roger Rowley; librarian, Kenneth Walsh.

Dance Band rehearsals look like more fun than work.

German Club

The German Club, made up of members of the German classes, has the distinction of being the only language club in Ken Hi. Under the sponsorship of Mr. G. J. Babalis, the club's main purpose is to make its members more familiar with the culture and customs of Germany. Through the German Club, members wrote to pen pals and sent CARE packages to Europe. The officers are as follows: John Kane, president; Oscar Traini, secretary; and Steve Fryncko, treasurer.

Cheerleaders

These vivacious cheerleaders — seniors, Carol Huth, Yolando Tocco, Pat Sullivan, and juniors, Babe Sams, Pat Misczak, Sylvia Myers—attend all the games attired in their red sweaters and white skirts, vociferously cheering the Red Raiders on to victory. Under the able supervision of Miss Pascaretta, they sponsored their yearly dance. They have the privilege of attending basketball and football banquets. This group of girls is to be commended for generating school spirit throughout the year.

Football 1956

The New Kensington Red Raiders faced another tough schedule in 1956, but compiled a good record of 6 wins and 3 losses. Again as last year, they lacked the size for rough Class AA competition but made up for this with their quick thinking and inexhaustible speed. The coveted Renaldo Kozikowski trophy was won by backman Joe Drake.

Football Coaches

Mr. Primozic, in his second year on Ken-Hi's coaching staff, was Mr. Fletcher's co-worker in developing the line. Mr. Slosky is instrumental in developing an elusive hard-hitting backfield. Mr. Fletcher, the head coach, builds Ken-Hi's powerful forward wall. Mr. Fletcher has been with the Red Raiders for 18 years. Mr. Marshall is responsible for working the junior varsity into a potential varsity team. Aside from his junior varsity duties, Mr. Marshall scouts Ken-Hi's opposition.

Varsity Basketball

This year's basketball team failed in the defense of the Sectional title but still enjoyed a fairly successful season. Playing their last season on the Ridge Avenue floor, the Kenmen hope to regain their title on the new high school floor.

Coach Veitch and Coach Slosky appear eager for a few twirls.
